

NZS 5465:2001

SELF CONTAINMENT OF MOTOR CARAVANS AND CARAVANS

AMENDMENT No. 1

9 March 2012

REVISED TEXT

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Freedom Camping Act 2011 was introduced to encourage responsible freedom camping and provide consistent laws across New Zealand. New local authority camping-related bylaws will be prepared in 2012 that will reference the Act and it is important that a clear distinction be made between vehicles that are self contained in accordance with this Standard and those that are not.

The amendment of NZS 5465:2001 Self containment of motor caravans and caravans will allow the introduction of an easily recognisable sticker on the rear of the vehicle identifying self contained vehicles that meet NZS 5465 and minimise the time and effort enforcement officers will need to ensure motor caravans and caravans are compliant. Display of the new self containment sticker on the rear of the vehicle to show it meets NZS 5465 is a voluntary requirement of the Standard as stickers placed on the exterior of the vehicle may be subject to weathering or defacement. This is in addition to the existing requirement for a warrant sticker to be affixed inside the front windscreen. Enforcement officers should check both or either the front windscreen warrant and/or the self containment certificate as these are mandatory.

Provision for an administering authority has been removed from this Standard as this is now seen as an ineffective and unnecessary layer of administration.

APPROVAL

Amendment No. 1 was approved on 21 February 2012 by the Standards Council to be an amendment to NZS 5465:2001.
